in Sacramento and Washington on a diversity of issues.

In 1998, the year he left the campus, the Chancellor awarded Len two Distinguished Service Awards (as an individual and as a member of a team) for his service to the University.

In 1999 and 2000, Len served in the Clinton Administration as a full-time advisor on pre-disaster planning and environmental issues to the Director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

Also during that time in Washington, Len served on two White House Task Forces related to balancing environmental and economic needs in communities nationwide.

Throughout this period of public service, Len learned the value of open, honest government that is responsive to its constituents, and learned how to effectively work with elected officials and civil servants to accomplish their mutual objectives.

Five years ago, Len formed a nonprofit, America's River Communities, Inc. that has since helped citizens and governments in the Bay Area and throughout the United States address their economic, environmental, and education and health related concerns. Through this nonprofit, Len has worked as a consultant to community foundations and other nonprofit organizations to develop effective governance, raise and grant funds, and implement projects.

Currently, Len is also working with community and government leaders in San Benito County, California to implement a land use strategy that is, for the first time, supported by landowners, developers and environmentalists.

In 2005, Len was also retained as a consultant to the U.S. State Department, assisting the government of Slovakia with their efforts to preserve that nation's only United Nations designated nature preserve.

Len has volunteered on the community boards of several nonprofit organizations, including KQED in San Francisco and the Public Policy Information Fund in Austin, Texas.

Mystery Night, October 15th, Saturday

Here are some final thoughts and suggestions regarding the Mystery Night this Saturday, October 15th.

Meet at the SAN CARLOS TRAIN STATION, El Camino side by 4:45 pm.

I have received several calls from wives of Rotarians in the last couple of days regarding dress for the evening.

Ladies: nice slacks or skirt, blouse and jacket or nice evening wear with a wrap.

Gentlemen: nice slacks (or in Eldridge's case, clean jeans), collared shirt and jacket for warmth.

We will be outside for a period of time so scan the skies before dressing! Bring a camera if you wish, photo ops may be occurring! We are excited and pleased that many Rotarians and their friends will be joining us for the evening. A lot of FUN and FELLOWSHIP will be had this night! Remember....don't be late!
